ANAL OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Rural Development had a humble beginning as a small cell called “Accounts & Audit Cell” attached to “The Planning & Coordination Department”, Govt. of Nagaland headed by an Account Officer on deputation brought from the Office of the Accountant General, Shillong, from time to time. The cell dealt with all kinds of accounts matters as Budget, Appropriation Accounts, Finance Accounts, Audit Objections, Internal Audit, and Control of Expenditure under Plan and Non-Plan of all Blocks.

In the year 1978-79, the Cell was subsequently detached from the Planning & Coordination Department and was notified as a full-fledged Head of Department, “The Directorate of Rural Development Blocks” and placed under the administrative control of Special Secretary and Agricultural Production Commissioner, Nagaland assisted by a Deputy Director on deputation from the Co-operation Department with skeleton staff.

Thereafter, the Administrative Head also functioned as the Head of Department of the Directorate as Ex-officio Director, till such time, the post of Director was created during the year 1988. However, this post of Director continued to be manned by Nagaland Civil Service (NCS) Officers on deputation upto 1993. Thereafter Departmental Promotees has manned the post of Director.

ORGANISATIONAL STRUCTURE:

1. State Level-Directorate of Rural Development:

The Directorate of R.D has now become one of the major Departments of the state with a full-fledged Directorate at the state level. There are 11 DRDAs in the 11 Districts with 52 Blocks spread over Nagaland.

The Directorate functions under a Director, assisted by 1 Addl. Director, 5 Joint Directors, 28 other officers and 99 Ministerial staff. The main functions of the Directorate is general administration and direction of the Directorate, the District Rural Development Agencies (DRDAs) and Blocks, Prepare plan, Fund release, Frame policy, Coordinate with the administrative set-up and Govt. of India for general matters and fund release.

2. District Level-District Rural Development Agencies:

During the year 1995, the State Rural Development Agency (SRDA) was disbanded, re-organized and constituted District Rural Development Agency (DRDA) in all the then 7 districts of the state to achieve greater decentralization in the planning process, taking into accounts the local need and suitability of schemes and to make supervisory services more accessible to achieve greater effective implementation of the various Poverty Alleviation and Rural Development Programmes in the state. In addition, during 1999-2000, DRDA Dimapur has been created and currently, following the creation of 3 more new Districts of Longleng, Kiphire and Peren, 3 DRDAs have also been created accordingly. Presently there are 11 DRDAs in the state. The DRDA has a Chairman of the Governing Body, who is sitting MLA. The Deputy Commissioner of the district functions as the Chief Executive Officer assisted by Project Director and Officers and Staff for administrative control, implementing and monitoring of all Rural Development Programmes within the district.

3. Block Level-Block Development Officers:

The Government of India created 15 Tribal Development Blocks during 1955-56 and 6 Community Development Blocks in 1964-65. All these 21 TD/CD Blocks were manned by Junior NCS officers and Agri Officers till as late as 1983. Subsequently, the existing Blocks and subordinate staff were brought under the control and administration of R.D Department after its creation. A further 7 more Blocks were created during 1986-87. Finally, 24 Blocks were created during 1995-96. Presently, there are 52 Rural Development Blocks in Nagaland.

The Block is headed by a Block Development Officer assisted by Junior Engineer/SO (Engineer) and Staff. The responsibility of BDO is to achieve personal and direct contact with the VDBs, ensure proper schematic implementation, coordination and monitoring activities of the VDBs, assist in the selection of priority based schemes, issue completion certificates after personal verification and submit the same to the Chairman for fund release.

4. Village Level-Village Development Board (VDB):

The Village Level Development Agencies called the “Village Development Boards” (VDBs) has been formed in 1980 under Clause 12 of Section 12 of the Nagaland Village and Area Council Act 1978. The VDB is a concept based on the traditional lines of the Village Councils (VCs) which appeared in the form of the Village Common Fund Committees (VCFC) in Phek District of Nagaland in 1976. The initiative for the formation of VCFC and keeping the fund in banks came from the innovative initiatives of Shri. A.M. Gokhale IAS, the then Deputy Commissioner, Phek. He took this concept further for the formation of VDBs in all existing 918 recognized villages during his tenure as the Secretary to the Rural Development Department in 1980-81.

All permanent residents of the village form the General body of the Village Development Board. A Management Committee is formed from the General Body Chosen by the Village Council concerned and a Secretary is selected to manage the affairs of the VDB for a period of three years. The Deputy Commissioner of the District functions as the Ex-officio Chairman of all VDBs in the District. The VDBs are the grass-root level Development Institutions in the state and are responsible for implementation of all programmes/schemes of both under State Plan and Centrally Sponsored Schemes under Rural Development Department. Apart from Centrally Sponsored Schemes, the village-wise allocation was introduced under State Plan from 1980-81 under which every village receives funds under the Grant-in -Aid according to the basis of the number of Households of the village at a specified rate per tax paying household of allocation for implementing schemes for community development. Initially, the allocation to the villages under this scheme was made at the rate of Rs.100/- per tax paying household with a minimum of Rs.5,000/- during 1980-81 and through subsequent enhancements, currently the rate is Rs.1000/- per tax paying household. With this fund provided by the Department, developmental activities best suited to their requirements are taken up by the villagers themselves for implementation every year. At present there are 1128 recognized villages with 2,31,514 number of households having constituted VDB in all recognized villages in the state.
